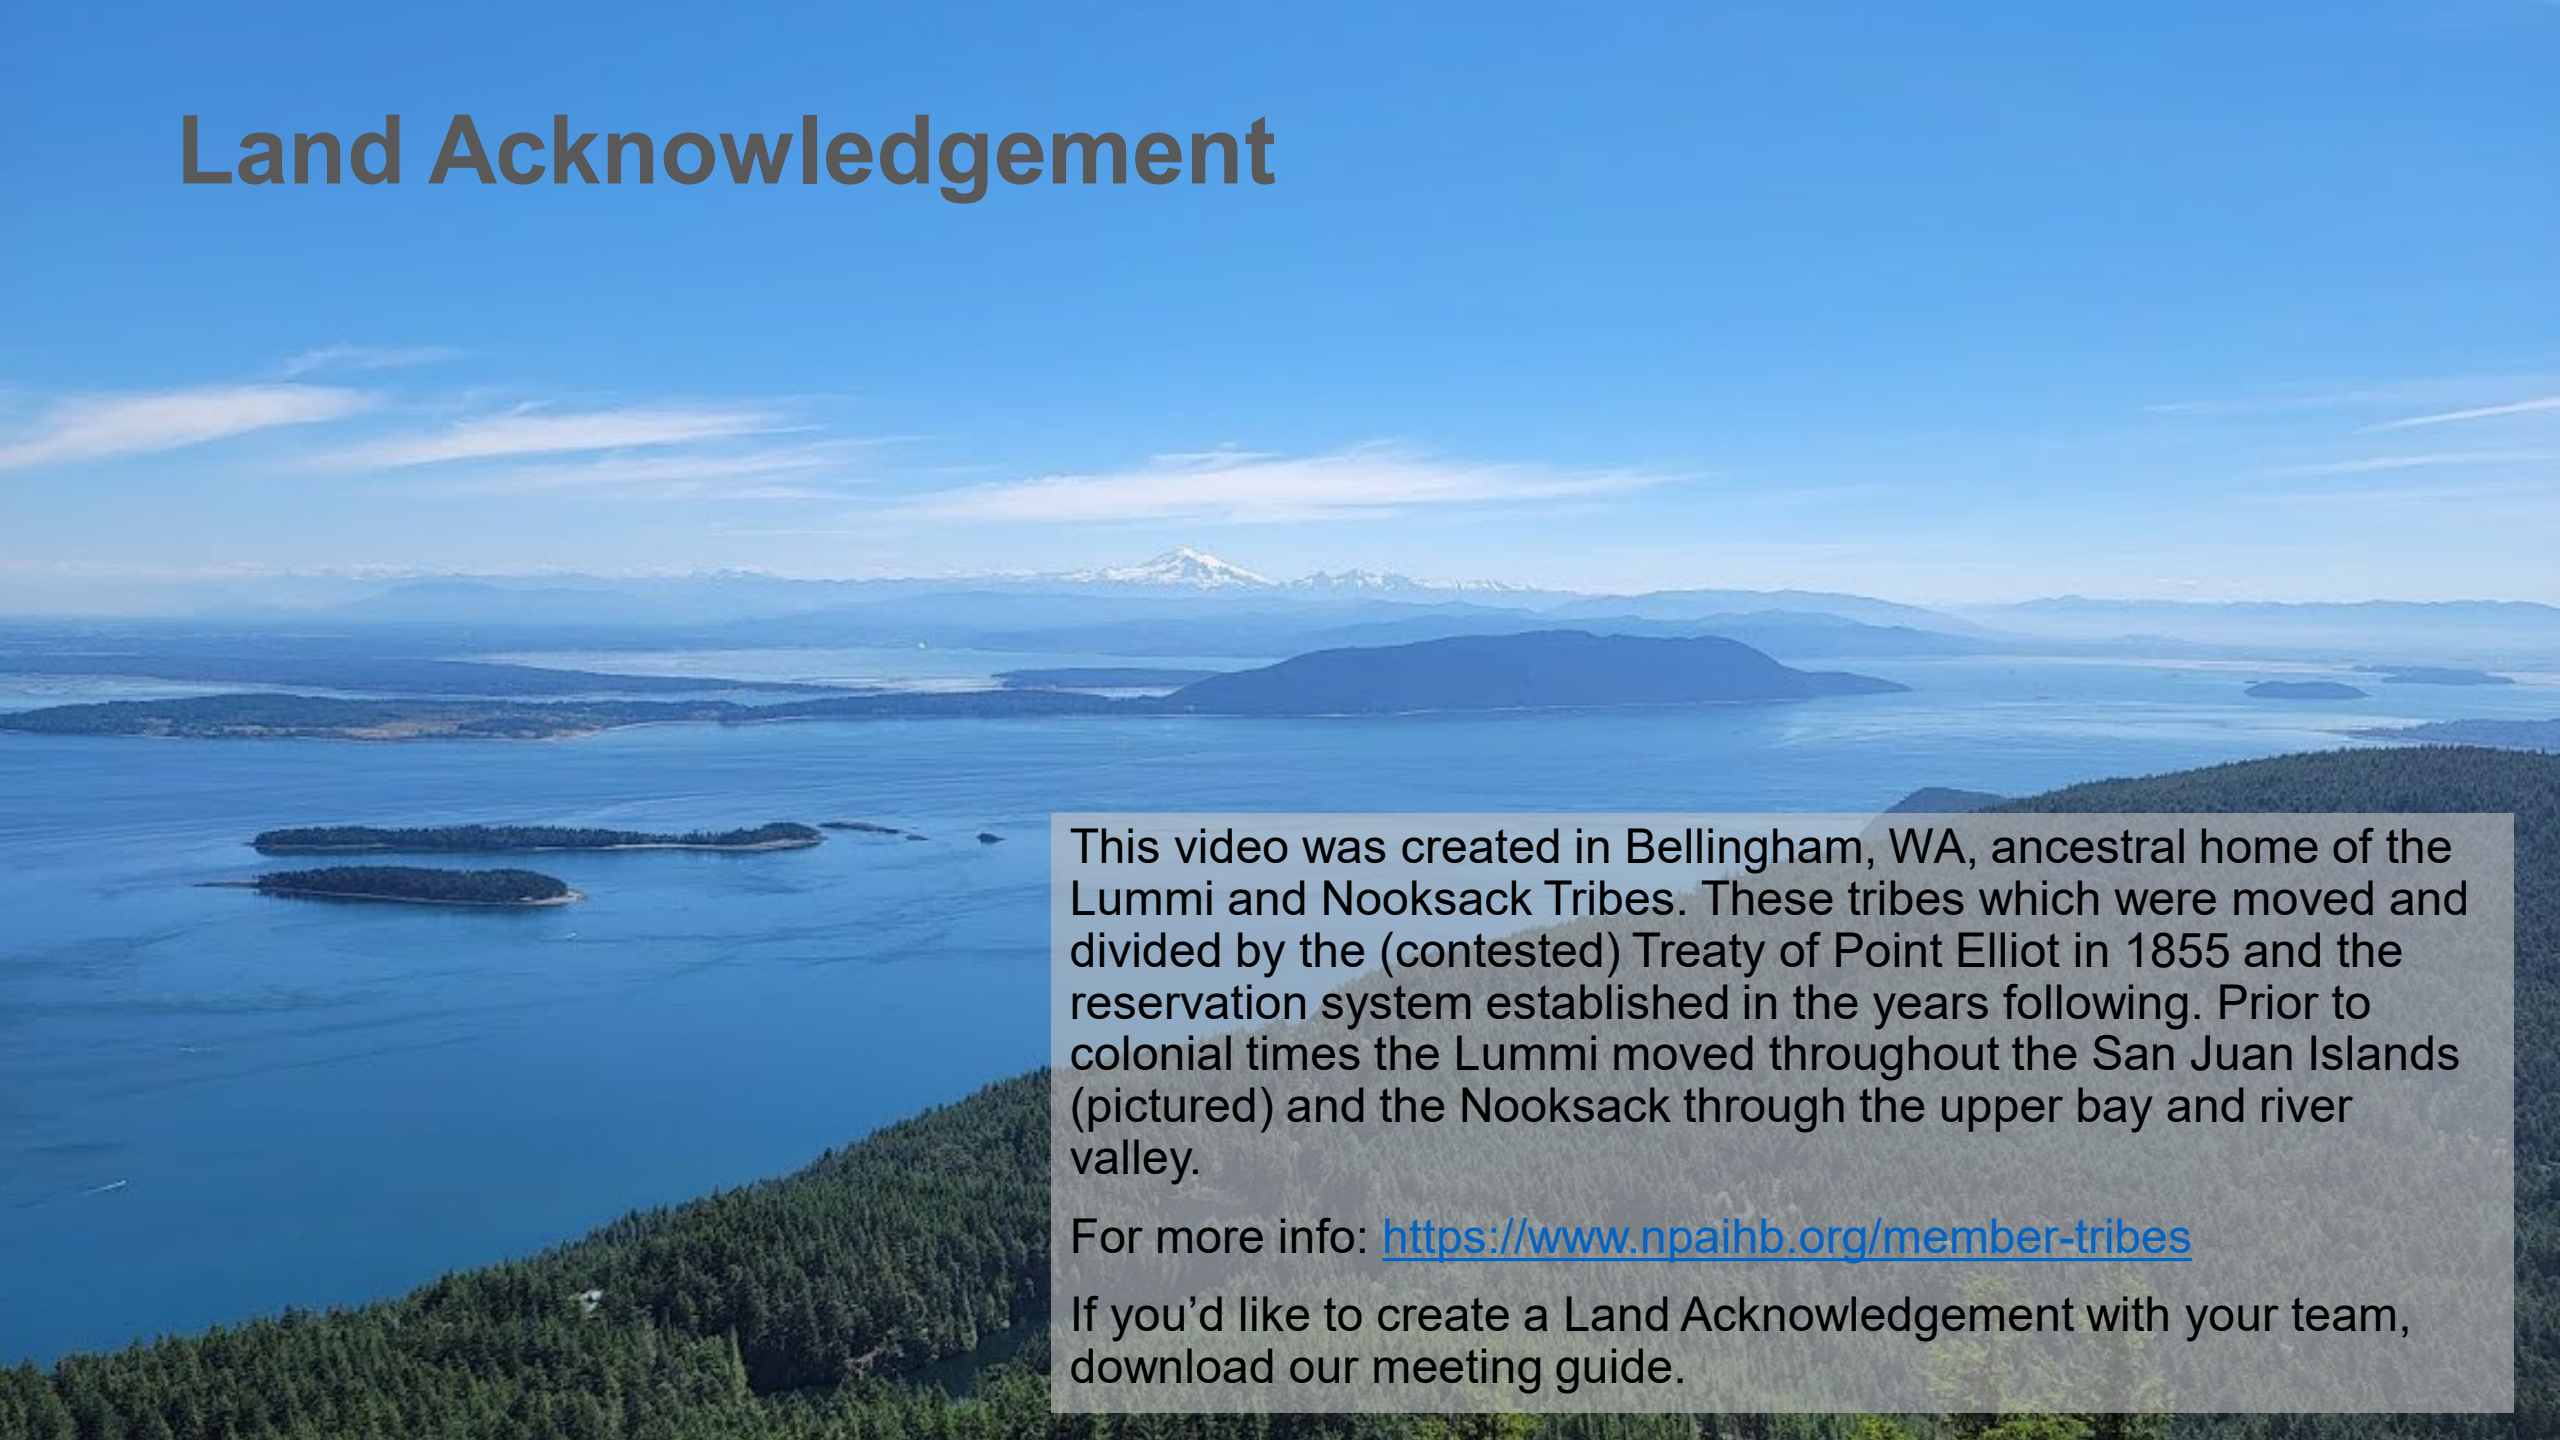
Land Acknowledgement



This video was created in Bellingham, WA, ancestral home of the Lummi and Nooksack Tribes. These tribes which were moved and divided by the (contested) Treaty of Point Elliot in 1855 and the reservation system established in the years following. Prior to colonial times the Lummi moved throughout the San Juan Islands (pictured) and the Nooksack through the upper bay and river valley.

Learning Goals

After this training you will:

- Understand the background to the development of these standards (evidence based!)
- Know where to find more information on the Best Practice Standards
- Be able to name and describe each of the 8 best practice standards and create plans for implementation
    - Modules will be broken up by Standard and will be released as they are ready, starting with Best Practice 1 and 2.
